

Gains 30 Pounds In 30 Days

Remarkable Result of the New Tissue Builder Protone in Many Cases of Run-Down Men and Women.

Prove It Yourself By Sending Coupon
Below for a 50c. Package, Free.

"By George, I never saw anything like the effects of that new treatment, Protone, for the building up of weight and lost nerve force. It acted more like a miracle than a medicine," said a well-known gentleman yesterday in speaking of the revolution that had taken place in his condition. "I began to think that there was nothing on earth that could make me fat. I tried tonics, digestive, heavy eating, dole, milk, but nothing did me any good. I could think of, but without result. I had been thin for years, and

Any Man or Woman Who Is Thin Can Recover Normal Weight by the Remarkable New Treatment.

began to think it was natural for me to be that way. Finally I read about the remarkable processes brought about by the use of Protone, so I decided to try it myself. Well, when I look at myself in the mirror now, I think it is somebody else, to have put on just 30 pounds during the last month and never felt stronger or more "nervy" in my life.

Protone is a powerful inducer of nutrition, increases cell-growth, makes perfect the assimilation of food, increases the number of blood-corpuscles, and, as a necessary result, builds up muscles and solid, healthy flesh, and rounds out the figure.

For women who can never appear stylish in anything they wear because of their thinness, this remarkable treatment may prove a revelation. It is a beauty maker as well as a form builder and nerve strengthener.

It will cost you nothing to prove the remarkable effects of this treatment. It is absolutely non-injurious to the most delicate system. The Protone Company will send to any one who sends name and address, a free 50c.
package of Protone, with full instructions to prove that it does the work.
They will also send your book on "Why You Are Thin," free of charge, giving facts which will probably astonish you. Send coupon below to-day with your name and address.

FREE PROTONE COUPON.
This coupon is good for a free 50c. package (all charges prepaid) of Protone, the remarkable scientific discovery for building up thin people, together with our free book telling why you are thin. If sent with ten cents in silver or stamps or help cover postage and packing, I will send evidence of good faith to The Protone Co., 1754 Protone Bldg., Detroit, Mich.

Name
Street
City State

SOCIETY

(Continued From Second Page.)

Street. All members are asked to be present.

Hall-Morris.
The home of Mrs. Alice M. Morris, 623 North Twenty-second Street, was the scene Wednesday afternoon of a very pretty wedding ceremony, when her daughter, Ethel May Morris, became the bride of John Henry Hall, of Whiteville, N. C.

The rooms were very tastefully decorated for the occasion, and the present were numerous.

The bride was attired in a beautiful frook of white lingerie, carrying a huge bouquet of white chrysanthemums. The color scheme was green and white.

The bride is the eldest daughter of Mrs. Alice M. Morris, widow of Edward T. Morris, and the bridegroom is the son of John H. Hall, of North Carolina, and is connected with the Newport News Shipbuilding and Dry-dock Company.

On and after December 1 Mr. and Mrs. Hall will reside in Newport News to spend winter here.

THE WAY OUT
Change of Food Brought Success and Happiness.

An ambitious but delicate girl, after failing to go through school on account of nervousness and hysteria, found in Grape-Nuts the only thing that seemed to build her up and furnish her the peace of health.

"From infancy," she says, "I have not been strong. Being ambitious to learn at any cost, I finally got to the High School, but soon had to abandon my studies on account of nervous prostration and hysteria.

"My food did not agree with me. I grew thin and despondent. I could not enjoy the simplest social affair, for I suffered constantly from nervousness in spite of all sorts of medicines.

"This wretched condition continued until I was twenty-five, when I became interested in the letters of those who had cases like mine, and who were being cured by eating Grape-Nuts.

"I had little faith, but procured a box, and after the first dish I experienced a peculiar satisfied feeling that I had never gained from any ordinary food. I slept and rested better than I had, and in a few days began to grow stronger.

"I had a new feeling of peace and rest-fulness. In a few weeks, to my great joy, the headaches and nervousness left me, and life became bright and hopeful. I resumed my studies and later taught ten months with ease—of course using Grape-Nuts every day. It is now four years since I began to use Grape-Nuts. I am the mistress of a happy home, and the old weakness has never returned.

Read the little book, "The Road to Wellville," in pkgs. "There's a Reason." Ever read the above letter? A new one appears from time to time. They are genuine, true and full of human interest.

Mrs. Hall will reside in Newport News
to spend winter here.

Mr. and Mrs. Albert Janette Kirkland are with Mrs. Horace Welford Jones, 200 East Franklin Street, for the winter.

Mr. and Mrs. C. Conway and Miss Margaret Conway have returned from Orange county, where they have been for several months, and are at 9 East Grace Street for the winter.

Miss Melville's Engagement.

Mr. and Mrs. George Scott Melville, of 805 West Grace Street, announce the engagement of their daughter, Helen Scott Melville, to Stanford Dyson Kennedy, of Kentucky.

The marriage will take place in December.

Halloween Party.
The pupils of Peggam's Seminary entertained their friends at a delightful Halloween party on Monday afternoon from 4 to 6, in the school parlors.

Master Daniel Stern, assisted by a "genuine ghost," received the guests in a dimly lit room. Miss Madeline McDonough, attended by Miss Virginia Cooke and Essie Straelman, served refreshments. The decorations were chrysanthemums, autumn leaves, ferns and palms. After an hour spent in games, a musical and literary program was successfully given by the pupils.

Those taking part were Misses Alice Washer, Virginia Cooke, Essie Strae-lman, Essie Cox, Stella Anderson, Nuala Williams, Lucile Sisson, Louise Washer, Sophy Gay, Maud Parrish, Clarion Duke, Ethel Bauer, Jeanne Chernault, Ruby Duke and Madeline McDonough.

Sheltering Arms Board Meeting.
The general board of the Sheltering Arms Free Hospital will meet at the hospital at 12 o'clock on Monday morning.

In and Out of Town.
Judge James Keith has returned to his home on Cathedral Pico, after spending several days in Warrenton.

Mrs. A. E. Donnan has returned from New York, where she has been to place her daughter, Edith, at Miss Ely's School for Girls.

Mrs. David Leake is in New York, where she was among the out-of-town guests at the Williams-Murray wedding.

Professor John P. Neff and family, who have been at the New Virginia Hotel, Staunton, for the past two months, have taken a house in Staunton for the winter. Professor Neff spent last year in Richmond.

Dr. and Mrs. Benjamin C. Willis, who have been spending the week at the Jefferson, have left for their home in Cincinnati.

Mrs. John Enders, who has been the guest of Miss Sallie Coles in Albermarle, has returned to Richmond.

Lewis B. Staton, of William and Mary College, accompanied by two of his friends, Selden R. Warner and Emmett L. Machen, spent several days last week with his parents, Dr. and Mrs. Lee W. Staton, 1915 West Main Street.

Mrs. Henningham Spilman has returned to Richmond, after spending several days in New York.

Miss Elizabeth Ryland has returned to Richmond after a two weeks' stay in Baltimore as the guest of Mrs.
Norvell Walker.

Miss Ruth Lacy, who has been visiting Miss Lora Crump at the Chesterfield, has left for Birmingham, Ala.,
where she will visit some time before returning to her home in Wyoming.

Miss Elizabeth Kent King is in Ashland, where she will remain for several weeks.

Miss Lora Crump will leave in a few days for New York, where she will remain for a week.

Miss Ruth Marston and Miss Bettie Winston will arrive next week to be the guests of Miss Cary Valentine, on West Franklin Street.

The British Ambassador and Mrs.
James Bryce were scarcely settled in their embassy for the winter before they welcomed the latter's sister-in-law and niece, Mrs. and Miss Ashton, of London, who are making their first tour of the States. The Hon. Rachel
K. Shuttleworth, sister of the military attache and Mrs. James, who is also here for a first visit, is likewise being entertained at the embassy, though she is the house guest of her kinsmen.

The father of the Hon. Mrs. James and Miss Shuttleworth is an English writer
of prominence and a member of Parliament. His visit to Washington is an event of two seasons ago, when he studied the United States Congress in session at close range, and made many friends among the lawmakers.

The Mexican embassy is still without its chateaux, but society will not lack Mexican favorites to honor so long as former Ambassador Senor Don Joaquin Casasus and Senor Don Jose Gedoy remain in town with their respective families. There are young people in each family group and all are pleasantly remembered for a previous residence here. It frequently happens, therefore, that the two groups are joint guests of honor on festive occasions.

"Such was the happy case on Monday,
when all of the boxes at Columbia Theatre were required to accommodate the company invited to share with them the pleasure of seeing May Robson in "The Rejuvenation of Aunt Mary." Little receptions were held between acts, as old friends in other parts of the house recognized the visitors.

The German Ambassador and Countess Von Bernstorff and Countess Louise Alexandra von Bernstorff arrived in Washington to-day and opened the embassy for the season. Rejoicing over the safe return of this very greasable household is not unmixed with regret, since it means the early departure of the German Charge d'Affaires, Count Wedel, who expects to spend his official vacation with the countess, who sailed from New York about a fortnight ago, in the fatherland. With a leave of absence extending through the Christmas holidays, it is more than likely that they will miss that unique American institution—Miss Columbia's New Year reception to the diplomatic corps,
and the similarly brilliant evening
pageant which follows a few days later.

In anticipation of his going away,
Count Wedel has been much entertained within the month. On Wednesday he was the dinner guest of honor of the Emperor's Military Attache and Madam Von Livonius, and afterward joined a gay party seeing Lillian Russell in "The Widow's Might."

Coincidence with the farewell en-taining of Count Wedel is the welcome given his embassy colleague, Herr von Glabbe, who retired with Ambassador Bernstorff after having spent the summer abroad. On all occasions the popular Baron von Richtofen receives congratulations over his promotion to a higher position at the German embassy
at Mexico. Baron Heydau, Hansheim, who will succeed him at this post is at the moment accredited to the Prussian legation at Dresden. Lieutenant von Breuning is another young bachelor diplomat shortly to be welcomed by officialdom. It will also be cordially welcome an old friend, clothed with new power—Count de Bunsere, who won his American wife while serving at this capital as an attache to the legation of Belgium, of which he is now the head. As Miss Story, the Countess de Bunsere was a great belle, and her marriage an event of her last season in Washington.

According to unofficial rumor, an American chateaux will also soon be presiding over the Czar's embassy here, for Monsieur Bakmatieff is said to be slated as the successor of Ambassador Baron de Rosen. Madame Bakmatieff was formerly Miss McLean, sister of John R. McLean, millionaire editor-politician, and sister-in-law of Admiral Dewey.

Society had a peep at the way they do things in Switzerland on Saturday when Madame Ritter, wife of the Swiss minister, entertained at tea to introduce the wife and two daughters of the new chateaux, the Countess de Madame Salli and the Misses Salli.

A few days before, it dined a la Norway, at the home of the Norwegian Minister and Madame Gude. On the latter occasion it met and admired the row of chateaux at the legation, Madame Salli and the Misses Salli.

If any one thinks the office of president-general of the National Society of Daughters of the American Revolution
is a sinecure, let him take the following peep at the November calendar of Mrs. Matthew T. Scott, the incumbent. Last week-end found her at headquarters closeted with stenographers in the almost vain effort to answer the absolutely necessary letters.

Monday forenoon was similarly occupied, while the afternoon found her on route to Philadelphia, where in the evening she was the dinner guest of honor of the Pennsylvania State regent, Mrs. Gatchell. Later she greeted all the Philadelphia Daughters and delegates to the annual State convention, whose opening session she attended on Tuesday. On the second evening of her stay in the City of Brotherly Love she was the central
figure at a large reception given by the State Historical Society. Taking the midnight train she arrived in Washington in the gray dawn of Wednesday morning, and by 10 o'clock she was at Continental Hall presiding over the regular monthly meeting of the society's executive board. November 10
she will be in Brunswick, Ga., for the annual State meeting of the "Cracker Daughters." South Carolina, Tennessee, Minnesota and Michigan will also be visited before Thanksgiving finds her in Milwaukee.

Among the visitors in Washington
during the week were noted Mrs.
Stockton, and W. D. Sydnor and R. S.
Cottrell, of Richmond; Judge R. T. W.

des Planches, arrived in time to witness the appreciative reception of his government's art gift to this country, and incidentally to put to confusion
the Italian opponents to his continued service at the head of the diplomatic corps in Washington. His embassy is now dressed in its winter turban for the return of the baroness, who was detained in Rome by a slight indisposition on the eve of his departure for New York, and who is expected to arrive there to-day. The home over which she presides as leader of the foreign corps was purchased several years ago by the Italian government from the parents of William Randolph Hearst, by whom it was occupied during the senior Mr. Hearst's regime as United States Senator from California, and is splendidly adapted for the large entertainments that have since been given within its walls.

Baroness Mayor des Planches is especially brilliant as a hostess at evening receptions, and on these occasions
she gathers around her groups of men and women who would grace the salon of a Madame de Maintenon.

The British Ambassador and Mrs.
James Bryce were scarcely settled in
their embassy for the winter before
they welcomed the latter's sister-in-
law and niece, Mrs. and Miss Ashton,
of London, who are making their first
tour of the States. The Hon. Rachel
K. Shuttleworth, sister of the military
attache and Mrs. James, who is also
here for a first visit, is likewise being
entertained at the embassy, though
she is the house guest of her kinsmen.

The father of the Hon. Mrs. James and
Miss Shuttleworth is an English writer
of prominence and a member of Parliament. His visit to Washington is an
event of two seasons ago, when he
studied the United States Congress in

session at close range, and made many
friends among the lawmakers.

The Mexican embassy is still without
its chateaux, but society will not
lack Mexican favorites to honor so
long as former Ambassador Senor Don
Joaquin Casasus and Senor Don Jose
Gedoy remain in town with their respective families. There are young people in each family group and all are
pleasantly remembered for a previous
residence here. It frequently happens,
therefore, that the two groups are joint
guests of honor on festive occasions.

"Such was the happy case on Monday,
when all of the boxes at Columbia
Theatre were required to accommodate
the company invited to share with
them the pleasure of seeing May Rob-
son in "The Rejuvenation of Aunt
Mary." Little receptions were held be-
tween acts, as old friends in other parts of the house recognized the
visitors.

Reinach

107 East Broad Street.

All That is New in Millinery on Display in Our Place Every Day for the Coming Week.

Quality and Style are the strongest characteristics of Reinach Merchandise. We find the greatest satisfaction in offering to buyers the Newest and Best Productions of the World's Markets at prices which invite comparison.

We show more hats in our parlor on second floor than you will find this side of New York—and in connection with this you will find on this same floor the best equipped Hair Department in the South. The most up-to-date hair dresser and all that is new in the latest arrangement of the hair.

Our toilet articles are the best. Give this department a trial. Like our Millinery, you will find our Hair Department just right.

his friends, Selden R. Warner and Em-
mett L. Machen, spent several days
last week with his parents, Dr. and Mrs. Lee W. Staton, 1915 West Main Street.

Mrs. Henningham Spilman has re-
turned to Richmond, after spending
several days in New York.

Miss Elizabeth Ryland has returned
to Richmond after a two weeks' stay
in Baltimore as the guest of Mrs.
Norvell Walker.

Miss Ruth Lacy, who has been visiting Miss Lora Crump at the Chester-
field, has left for Birmingham, Ala.,
where she will visit some time before
returning to her home in Wyoming.

Miss Elizabeth Kent King is in Ash-
land, where she will remain for several weeks.

Miss Lora Crump will leave in a few
days for New York, where she will
remain for a week.

Miss Ruth Marston and Miss Bettie
Winston will arrive next week to be
the guests of Miss Cary Valentine, on
West Franklin Street.

The British Ambassador and Mrs.
James Bryce were scarcely settled in
their embassy for the winter before
they welcomed the latter's sister-in-
law and niece, Mrs. and Miss Ashton,
of London, who are making their first
tour of the States. The Hon. Rachel
K. Shuttleworth, sister of the military
attache and Mrs. James, who is also
here for a first visit, is likewise being
entertained at the embassy, though
she is the house guest of her kinsmen.

The father of the Hon. Mrs. James and
Miss Shuttleworth is an English writer
of prominence and a member of Parliament. His visit to Washington is an
event of two seasons ago, when he
studied the United States Congress in

session at close range, and made many
friends among the lawmakers.

The Mexican embassy is still without
its chateaux, but society will not
lack Mexican favorites to honor so
long as former Ambassador Senor Don
Joaquin Casasus and Senor Don Jose
Gedoy remain in town with their respective families. There are young people in each family group and all are
pleasantly remembered for a previous
residence here. It frequently happens,
therefore, that the two groups are joint
guests of honor on festive occasions.

"Such was the happy case on Monday,
when all of the boxes at Columbia
Theatre were required to accommodate
the company invited to share with
them the pleasure of seeing May Rob-
son in "The Rejuvenation of Aunt
Mary." Little receptions were held be-
tween acts, as old friends in other parts of the house recognized the
visitors.

The German Ambassador and Count-
ess Von Bernstorff and Countess Louise
Alexandra von Bernstorff arrived in
Washington to-day and opened the em-
bassy for the season. Rejoicing over the
safe return of this very greasable
household is not unmixed with re-
gret, since it means the early departure of the German Charge d'Aff-
aires, Count Wedel, who expects to spend his official vacation with the countess, who sailed
from New York about a fortnight ago,
in the fatherland. With a leave of absence extending through the Christmas holidays, it is more than likely
that they will miss that unique Ameri-
can institution—Miss Columbia's New
Year reception to the diplomatic corps,
and the similarly brilliant evening
pageant which follows a few days later.

In anticipation of his going away,
Count Wedel has been much entertained within the month. On Wednesday
he was the dinner guest of honor of
the Emperor's Military Attache and
Madam Von Livonius, and afterward
joined a gay party seeing Lillian Rus-
sell in "The Widow's Might."

Coincidence with the farewell en-
taining of Count Wedel is the welcome
given his embassy colleague, Herr von
Glabbe, who retired with Ambassador
Bernstorff after having spent the sum-
mer abroad. On all occasions the popular Baron von Richtofen receives congratulations over his promotion to a
higher position at the German embassy
at Mexico. Baron Heydau, Hansheim,
who will succeed him at this post is at
the moment accredited to the Prussian
legation at Dresden. Lieutenant von
Breuning is another young bachelor
diplomat shortly to be welcomed by
officialdom. It will also be cordially wel-
come an old friend, clothed with new
power—Count de Bunsere, who won
his American wife while serving at
this capital as an attache to the legation
of Belgium, of which he is now the
head. As Miss Story, the Countess
de Bunsere was a great belle, and her
marriage an event of her last season in Washington.

According to unofficial rumor, an
American chateaux will also soon be
presiding over the Czar's embassy
here, for Monsieur Bakmatieff is said
to be slated as the successor of Ambassador Baron de Rosen. Madame Bakmatieff was formerly Miss McLean,
sister of John R. McLean, millionaire
editor-politician, and sister-in-law of
Admiral Dewey.

Society had a peep at the way they
do things in Switzerland on Saturday
when Madame Ritter, wife of the Swiss
minister, entertained at tea to intro-
duce the wife and two daughters of
the new chateaux, the Countess de
Madame Salli and the Misses Salli.

A few days before, it dined a la Nor-
way, at the home of the Norwegian
Minister and Madame Gude. On the
latter occasion it met and admired the
row of chateaux at the legation,
Madame Salli and the Misses Salli.

If any one thinks the office of president-general of the National Society of
Daughters of the American Revolution
is a sinecure, let him take the following peep at the November calendar of Mrs. Matthew T. Scott, the incumbent. Last week-end found her at
headquarters closeted with stenogra-
phers in the almost vain effort to answer the absolutely necessary letters.

Monday forenoon was similarly oc-
cupied, while the afternoon found her
on route to Philadelphia, where in the
evening she was the dinner guest of
honor of the Pennsylvania State reg-
ent, Mrs. Gatchell. Later she greeted
all the Philadelphia Daughters and
delegates to the annual State convention, whose opening session she attended on Tuesday. On the second
evening of her stay in the City of
Brotherly Love she was the central
figure at a large reception given by
the State Historical Society. Taking
the midnight train she arrived in Washington in the gray dawn of Wed-
nesday morning, and by 10 o'clock she
was at Continental Hall presiding over
the regular monthly meeting of the
society's executive board. November 10
she will be in Brunswick, Ga., for the
annual State meeting of the "Cracker Daughters." South Carolina, Tennessee, Minnesota and Michigan will also
be visited before Thanksgiving finds
her in Milwaukee.

Among the visitors in Washington
during the week were noted Mrs.
Stockton, and W. D. Sydnor and R. S.
Cottrell, of Richmond; Judge R. T. W.

des Planches, arrived in time to witness the appreciative reception of his
government's art gift to this country,
and incidentally to put to confusion
the Italian opponents to his continued
service at the head of the diplomatic
corps in Washington. His embassy is
now dressed in its winter turban for
the return of the baroness, who
was detained in Rome by a slight in-
disposition on the eve of his departure for New York, and who is expect-
ed to arrive there to-day. The home
over which she presides as leader of
the foreign corps was purchased several years ago by the Italian government from the parents of William Ran-
dolph Hearst, by whom it was occupied during the senior Mr. Hearst's regime as United States Senator from
California, and is splendidly adapted
for the large entertainments that have
since been given within its walls.

Baroness Mayor des Planches is especially brilliant as a hostess at evening receptions, and on these occasions
she gathers around her groups of men
and women who would grace the salon
of a Madame de Maintenon.

The British Ambassador and Mrs.
James Bryce were scarcely settled in
their embassy for the winter before
they welcomed the latter's sister-in-
law and niece, Mrs. and Miss Ashton,
of London, who are making their first
tour of the States. The Hon. Rachel
K. Shuttleworth, sister of the military
attache and Mrs. James, who is also
here for a first visit, is likewise being
entertained at the embassy, though
she is the house guest of her kinsmen.

The father of the Hon. Mrs. James and
Miss Shuttleworth is an English writer
of prominence and a member of Parliament. His visit to Washington is an
event of two seasons ago, when he
studied the United States Congress in

session at close range, and made many
friends among the lawmakers.

The Mexican embassy is still without
its chateaux, but society will not
lack Mexican favorites to honor so
long as former Ambassador Senor Don
Joaquin Casasus and Senor Don Jose
Gedoy remain in town with their respective families. There are young people in each family group and all are
pleasantly remembered for a previous
residence here. It frequently happens,
therefore, that the two groups are joint
guests of honor on festive occasions.

"Such was the happy case on Monday,
when all of the boxes at Columbia
Theatre were required to accommodate
the company invited to share with
them the pleasure of seeing May Rob-
son in "The Rejuvenation of Aunt
Mary." Little receptions were held be-
tween acts, as old friends in other parts of the house recognized the
visitors.

The German Ambassador and Count-
ess Von Bernstorff and Countess Louise
Alexandra von Bernstorff arrived in
Washington to-day and opened the em-
bassy for the season. Rejoicing over the
safe return of this very greasable
household is not unmixed with re-
gret, since it means the early departure of the German Charge d'Aff-
aires, Count Wedel, who expects to spend his official vacation with the countess, who sailed
from New York about a fortnight ago,
in the fatherland. With a leave of absence extending through the Christmas holidays, it is more than likely
that they will miss that unique Ameri-
can institution—Miss Columbia's New
Year reception to the diplomatic corps,
and the similarly brilliant evening
pageant which follows a few days later.

In anticipation of his going away,
Count Wedel has been much entertain-
ed within the month. On Wednesday
he was the dinner guest of honor of
the Emperor's Military Attache and
Madam Von Livonius, and afterward
joined a gay party seeing Lillian Rus-
sell in "The Widow's Might."

Coincidence with the farewell en-
taining of Count Wedel is the welcome
given his embassy colleague, Herr von
Glabbe, who retired with Ambassador
Bernstorff after having spent the sum-
mer abroad. On all occasions the popular Baron von Richtofen receives congratulations over his promotion to a
higher position at the German embassy
at Mexico. Baron Heydau, Hansheim,
who will succeed him at this post is at
the moment accredited to the Prussian
legation at Dresden. Lieutenant von
Breuning is another young bachelor
diplomat shortly to be welcomed by
officialdom. It will also be cordially wel-
come an old friend, clothed with new
power—Count de Bunsere, who won
his American wife while serving at
this capital as an attache to the legation
of Belgium, of which he is now the
head. As Miss Story, the Countess
de Bunsere was a great belle, and her
marriage an event of her last season in Washington.

According to unofficial rumor, an
American chateaux will also soon be
presiding over the Czar's embassy
here, for Monsieur Bakmatieff is said
to be slated as the successor of Ambassador Baron de Rosen. Madame